Tibor Varga as one of the world's leading classical musicians, he was also deeply interested in recording technology. His festival recordings, known for their superior sound quality, were captured using vintage tube electronics up until the late 1990s. Many of these recordings, made at carefully chosen venues like L'église des Jesuites in Sion, have become prized collector's LPs. The "Tibor Varga 100th Anniversary TMR-SE 0005" LP has achieved cult status. Thanks to the preservation of the original master tapes, we are now able to release more of these outstanding recordings, providing a rare glimpse into a rich period of classical music history.
